Due Monday, Apr. 24 at 11:30am

1. Write a Literature Review for your Project.

- (a) Write a three-to-six-page literature review for your project with complete citations that are referenced in a “References” page that is separate from your 3-6 pages of literature review.
- (b) This literature review should be an extensive survey of the literature relevant to your research question. Note that this is different from what you will include in the introductions of your final project papers.
- (c) You will be graded on organization, clarity, and completeness of this literature review.
- (d) You will also be graded on how you tie this literature review in to your project. In other words, your literature review should relate why these references relate to your research question.
- (e) A PDF of this document should be available in the “LitReview” folder of your project repository on GitHub by 11:30am on Monday, April 24.
